

Some Day

Instead of building more colleges, maybe we had better start down those we have as public academies.

The ones are flowing for the teachers at the University of Illinois because they are being punished for small favors shown physically limited young men. Some people say the coaches are no worse than the others in the Big Ten. They want to think this is adequate reason not to punish them.

The kids at the University of Wisconsin became alarmed at all the publicity Illinois is getting. They decided to make news of their own. They discovered that Dave Coleman, C. had no representation on the Madison (Wis.) campus offering jobs to students and the politicians agreed this is sufficient cause to take over the office of the university administration.

Unfortunately, a professor thought these actions might be riotous and called police. It was the university chancellor, $14,000 of his own money to post bond for the 18 demonstrators, including perhaps the student who sat in the chancellor's chair.

Twelve of the students arrested are from the East, just in case you like to keep track of where we raise the best demonstrators. Only two of the 18 are from the State of Wis., which ought to give the legislators food for thought when they get around to revising laws for more buildings.

Pretty soon we will have our own Harper College, financed partly by real estate taxes. Now is the time to start thinking of how much you want your coaches to work at, and what state is best for imported agitators.

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyr

Perhaps no person in public life has provided more of the inspiration as handicapped person than Judge Herman Kolman.

Judge Kolman was struck by a truck on his way to work at Arlington Heights Court Friday morning and died in North-western Community Hospital, despite a valiant attempt by first men to save his life.

At 36, Judge Kolman was considered one of the brightest stars of the circuit court, destined for a full career of judicial leadership and perhaps the federal bench.

Accomplishments that would satisfy at many by the age of 30 were routine for Judge Kolman—despite the fact that he was injured at the age of 19 in a basketball accident in The Hyde Park section of Chicago.

We met Judge Kolman at the Old Country Club in the Hyde Park area of Chicago.

Judge Kolman, he himself said, often was having lunch at the club and he stopped to introduce himself.

"I'm looking forward to meeting the first edition."

That's the way it was with Judge Kolman. You were never allowed to feel sorry for him in his presence. His blindness was so great. He looked you straight in the eye and spoke to you man to man.

FROM THAT day on, our paths crossed many times. Just from hearing our voice, he would identify us and speak to us like old friends.

Indeed, we considered the judge a friend and often sought him out for information concerning legal matters that we covered in the day to day routine of producing a newspaper.

Judge Kolman was always willing to talk in the year that we watched him work on the bench, punching out court decisions on the Beatty typewriter, we never saw him lose his temper or raise his voice.

He discussed justice as a man, impartial manner as the highest tradition of the American system of jurisprudence.

Vanguards alone of the law received special attention in Judge Kolman's court. His interest in children stems from the fact that he was the father of three—and from his own background in the tough Hyde Park section of Chicago where you got by on your fists, not your wit.

BEING blinded at the age of 19 could have ruined Judge Kolman as the first edition of developing into a brilliant legal

To Be Immodest ...

We at The Day are rather proud of ourselves. And if you'll forgive us, we like to brag a little.

Hanging in our offices are three trophies awarded to us last year with accompanying testimonials containing such glowing words as "excellence," "distinguished," "achievement," "best."

Our two newspapers, The Prospect and The Arlington Day, won top honors in the Inland Press Association competition for typographic and design.

This means that of all the Inland member papers in 23 states and three Canadian provinces ours were the best produced by the most method. (Ofset in the printing process that gives The Day its sharp, clear photo and type reproduction.)

Rivalling in importance the Inland awards was the Harrison MacDonald first-place gold cup presented to The Day by the Mississippi Valley Advertising Managers Association for use of color and display in classified ads.

The Mississippi Valley Association, which identifies the geographical limitations by its name includes 175 papers in the United States and Canada, adopted The Day's slogan, classified ad format "the best business building idea" of the year.

These honors, won against first-class competition judged by professional panels, are coveted awards. We prize them highly because they represent the approval of our colleagues—approval that surely comes in such measure to a newspaper operation in its first year. But more important is the recognition of our efforts to produce a newspaper worth of the community it represents.

The Day is your newspaper, designed to satisfy your tastes and guided by your criticism and encouragement.

We like to think that you're a little proud, too.

Boomerang?

In the trial of Richard Speck, accused murder of eight nurses, the court has laid down ground rules for newsmen so restrictive as to seriously hamper the press in its efforts to tell the public what it has a right to know.

In the legal climate which permits confessed liars to go free because certain technicalities were not observed in their convictions, no court ruling protecting the rights of the accused would surprise us.

Now wouldn't it be something if Speck is found guilty and his lawyer on appeal succeeds in having the verdict set aside because news reports of the trial proceedings were not given proper and adequate public dissemination?

Letters to the Editor

Keep Printing The Truth

Editor:

It has been with a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction that we read your editorial on the new law, but we are disappointed that you did not mention the fact that the new law is a violation of the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

I sincerely hope The Day will continue to print the truth and to be a voice for the people.

I, for one, and I mean for one, will be a subscriber to The Day for as long as it exists.

Wrenched Back And Doctor Bill

Editor:

I forbade, and I mean forbade, my wife, to go to the hospital to see the doctor. I am not a doctor, but I am a father.

I really did it alone, and I am sure that you will be able to do it, too.

Children Always In The Streets

Editor:

I must commend you for your fine article "Upstate New York's Children in the Streets" in the Feb. 20 issue of The Day.

My husband and I thought it was a very good article.

Do not think those people who worry about the children walking in the streets because of now on the sidewalks, worry about them all spring, summer and fall when they are always walking and playing in the streets.

Somers Gets Third Downstate

BY BOB CASTELLANE

Brad Somers of Arlington came within a car's whisker of earning a berth in the finals of the state high school wrestling meet Saturday, but had to settle for a third-place medal at 145 pounds. Somers was one of five dual 214 grapplers to qualify for the Champions trip, and was the top finalist in the quarterfinals. The Forest View Varsity earned a 100-point medal at the 145-pounders. Arlington's Mike Jones finished sixth among the 145s, 100 pounds.

TWO WHEELING mason failed to reach the semifinals. Rich Hadwin, a 154-pound senior, dropped a first round decision, and Ray Pace, at 180, lost in the second round.

All three athletes were represented in the final standings, though with Arlington leading in an eight-way tie for 21st with 10 points. Forest View tying three other schools for 35th on five points, and Wheeling carrying one point for a place of 13-14 in tie for 54th.

Somers' career as the third-place finish was easily the most heartbreaking path of the meet. The crowd-saver scored a 194-point win in the consolation round, but then lost to the individual dualist after suffering a defeat. He added two more wins, after the loss, finishing with a 2-3 record.

THE LOSS Somers suffered was one of the most costly in the history of the meet. He battled Bremen's Jim Zmuda through three score periods, plus an equally scoreless overtime period.

The victory was awarded to Zmuda on a referee's decision, after Bremen's Tom Berchard of Chicago took Arlington Coach Tom Zmuda to the mat. Zmuda was more aggressive in the first period.

Somers led gained a slight edge in the second period, but was not able to score his own point, though, and had to settle for a 1-2 record.

THE DECISION was made with both boys and coaches from a thousand views, and many coaches and writers took the decision as a surprise.

He knocked off Randy Pratt of West Chicago 7-4, and Chuck Drenth of Oak Park 9-4. Pratt went on to capture third place, and Drenth got fifth.

Wheeling's Ray Pace suffered some bad luck in the consolation round, losing to the title match with a 4-2 defeat.

Charles Arnold and built up an 8-4 lead before an injury to his knee, which derailed the team's hopes to continue. Arnold took advantage of the break to take a 1-2 lead. Pace, who entered the final with a 2-2 record, was looking on cautiously at the victory.

Wheeling's Rich Hadwin, the fifth area prep wrestler, made a dramatic trip, dropping a 6-0 decision to Tom Berchard of Lyons in the first round of the 146-pound contest. Hadwin went on to take third place, losing to a 1-2 record.

R.H. Stamm Joins Race in Dist. 59

Richard H. Stamm, 1414 S. Redwood, Mount Prospect, will be a Dist. 59 candidate at the April 8 school board election. His name will appear in the fourth position on the ballot, after those of Harry Pearson, incumbent Harry Markwell, and George McHugh. Ballot position is determined by the order in which candidates file.

Three vacancies on the board will be filled at the election. Stamm, a former naval officer, is president of ISC (Inter-Services Corporation), a firm he has been with since 1954. He has been with American Express Co. of Chicago since 1954. Stamm is manager of Theatrical Center Co. in Arlington Heights, and associated with Theatrical and Air Conditioning.

After a year in Montana State College in Bozeman, Stamm spent four years at U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, graduating as a Lt. jg., and subsequently serving in Korea.

He took part in Operation Deepfreeze I in the Antarctic, and served in the Arctic on the DEW-line (Distant Early Warning).

Stamm and his wife, Nina, are active in the PTA at Robert Frost School, 1414 S. Redwood. He and Marshall, 10, and Linda, 12, are in Dunsmuir Junior High School.

LAST FALL, when Joseph Schreier resigned from Dist. 59 board to accept a Syracuse University fellowship, Stamm was one of the candidates who were asked to run for appointment to the vacancy.

Sheriff Talks Tough ... Republicans Like Sound

BY MEL MILLER

He talked about the crime syndicate, politics and progress. He talked tough and his audience loved it because most of them had worked to get him elected sheriff of Cook County. Almost 150 members of the Elk Grove Republican Organization turned out last night to hear Sheriff Lee Woods talk about his work.

Dressed in conservative gray suits, Woods arrived at the Mount Prospect Country Club as a Commissioner Carl Hansen was introducing members of the organization who are voting for Woods to the sheriff's office.

Such conversations just happen to be a favorite of ours, too. A favorite pet peeve. The wedge has to be a few questions, voiced in the most unceremonious manner.

"You visit the teachers often, I imagine?" is a good one.

WHAT happens to the money contributed for a station campaign? In Mrs. Chapman's case, the expenditures went like this: printing, $2,561.50; advertising, $11,122.64; mailing and postage, $758.67; campaign dinner and reception, $648.25; supplies, $361.34; and miscellaneous, $2,240.40.

Cirrhosis of the Liver
W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What are the first symptoms of cirrhosis of the liver and what is the final outcome?

A—Although once thought to be caused only by heavy drinking, we now know that any chronic disease of the liver (of which alcoholism is only one) may cause cirrhosis. Because cirrhosis is a gradual replacement of functioning liver cells by scar tissue it is hard to say just when it begins. The symptoms, if any, are loss of appetite, easy fatigability and loss of weight, but none of these symptoms point specifically to cirrhosis.

If untreated the disease is fatal, but early treatment with a nourishing diet, vitamin supplements and abstinence from alcohol will halt its progress.

Q—If a prostate has been enlarged for several years is there any drug that will reduce it? I am taking Gantanol, is an operation necessary?

Several times a month, we get letters containing unordered merchandise advertising date of Jan. 1, 1966. Under Chapter 121 1/2 - Sales of goods:

Thanks For Helping Keep The Sabbath

think is overdue, but we can't do it until we have the downtown Arlington Heights area. I hope to get it done on Sundays. If we have to see our children and have to see that that day is not a waste of time, we can do it.

The manager of the store especially is to be commended. He is a very good person to deal with. He is not a person to close. In no way is it marking the Sabbath as a day of rest. It is a day of rest. It is possible for his employees to do the same and to do it.

days we shall labor, and on Sundays we shall worship God and rest. Her sin was not in what we shall labor.

Calendar Girl Is Real, Live Texas Beauty

Forget February—look what the next 31 days of March have in store. She is lovely Jan Hildgen who represents March on Arlington High School's National Forensic League Calendar.

Jan, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hildgen of 728 S. Kasper, is a junior at Arlington and is active in both scholastic and social activities. She is a member of Junior Class Board, Spanish Club, Triple "S," the yearbook staff, and has a first-come, first-served regular membership on the Junior Honor Roll.

The petit young lady transferred to Arlington as a sophomore from Sherman, Texas, and found herself in love with Arlington's size and spirit.

After graduation, Jan plans to return to her native Texas to attend Southern Methodist University and become an English teacher.

First Budget Figure Tops $44 Million

Village Manager L. A. Hanson has been tentative approval of a budget for fiscal 1967-68 that will exceed $44,000,000.

With two accounts missing, the budget totals $40,700,000, or an increase of about 14 percent from last year.

It includes a property tax increase of $10.00 per $100 of assessed value to $317 on homes assessed at $10,000.

THE VILLAGE FINANCE committee put its approval on the budget but Village Manager L. A. Hanson says it is still "only half a battle."

It still must meet approval of the full village board and go up for public hearing. The budget goes into effect May 1.

Hanson says the budget "represents a continuing effort to keep tax rates on an even keel."

But the budget calls for a little extra out of each taxpayer's pocketbook. It provides for a property tax rate of $44.47 for every $100,000 assessed valuation. The 1966-67 rate was $44.47 for property assessed at $100,000.

THE VILLAGE FINANCE committee has also increased the rate of the tax on homes to $10.00 per $100 of assessed value.

$14,000 payment for the Van Dusen property and the Municipal Building which is to be used for parking and $12,000 for "improvements."

The parking system budget which totals $103,537 represents a $50,000 increase over a year ago.

The Village Board will go to clearing the Van Dusen property and putting a parking lot.

Village Board to Consider Ban On Downtown Diagonal Parking

An ordinance to replace diagonal with parallel parking in the south part of the business district will go before the village board Monday.

The ordinance would eliminate the diagonal parking along Campbell Street and on the north side of the diagonal tracks along the Duane Street Shopping Center.

It would cut available parking space in the downtown area by about one-third.

THE REASONS for the change are obvious, according to Village Manager L. A. Hanson. "You just can't drive there," he said.

Hanson said the loss of parking space would be offset by the fact that the ordinance would eliminate the diagonal parking along Campbell Street and on the north side of the diagonal tracks along the Duane Street Shopping Center.

Village Census In the Wind

Every Arlington Heights resident will have to stand up and be counted next month.

The census is a requirement of the U.S. Department of Commerce to conduct the local census.

The village will shortly be sending out a questionnaire to all residents. The questionnaire will ask for a complete list of all residents in the village, including their names, addresses, and dates of birth.

Somebody, or probably a lot of bodies, merit a tip of the hat for the good news coming from Harper Junior College.

The administrators say they expect construction to be started this spring even if the state keeps dragging its feet on appropriating funds it has been talking about appropriating for many moons.

The credit goes to the citizens who served on the advance committee that recommended the junior college program and to the taxpayers who approved the necessary funds.

The taxpayer may think he has rocks in his head when he

The weatherman said here we left for Florida on the air Force support mission with Col. Len Hughes of Mount Prospect that it was going to be in the Homestead Air Force base area.

We decided to make the sacrifice anyway, since the weather was back to the zero mark and the outlook was, not good. It is doubtful that the weather at Homestead will be below the 60 degree level — that's cold for that area.

Our mission this time is to study the operations of the air force, as survival school.

This is the operation where my pilots are taught to survive — that is, downed over water, as many are in the Viet Nam war.

He petitions, according to the statute, must contain 50 names, 5 percent must be the signatures of voters in the last election.

Barlingame called Village Attorney Siegel to verify the fact that the petition contained 50 names, 5 percent it would be invalid. George Barlingame said Dorothy had quit a job for an hour and a half waiting names so that they file a legal petition.

Take Maine Township for an example. The voters there are going to the polls March 11 to decide if they want to spend $15,000,000 to remodel three existing high schools and construct a fourth school. Things may be bad around here, but nobody has come up with a $15,000,000 referendum yet.

That is just one problem in Maine. Waiting in the wings is a decision on a junior college plan. There is talk of the area joining the Harper College district because it looks like the easy way out. The alternatives are for the Maine people to form their own district and go through the referendum pain again or keep draining money from the high school district to pay tuition for graduates who go to Harper or other junior colleges.

At that time, the manager of the question was an issue. We began to hear that the will of the voters was not being taken into account. It was clearly expressed that the voters were not only a village and a municipality, but a system of local government.

BY COMING back to social reform, we can see that the manager of what already seems clear, that the voters will take the time to become as clearly informed as possible.

If they do not become completely informed, the manager of the system could lose by referendum. Of course, if that is the case, the manager of the system of the system of reform.

But it would be a waste of time, one that some have been told might try to change, using the manager of the system that they had the support of the people who expressed them selves against manager power.

This disease may cause a white vaginal discharge (leucorrhoea) with inflammation, itching and burning.

'Uppercut' for Insects

That enemy is the insect, whose annual toll of crops and livestock mounts

Never before, however, have men had an array of weapons at their disposal such as they now have or hope soon to have — weapons so promising that the U.S. Anopheles gambiae population they become. It costs as much to kill the last one per cent of a population as it does to kill the first 99 per cent. Also, insects develop resistant strains and there is the danger of pesticide contamination of the environment.

US Agriculture Department proposes total warfare against the 100 worst insects that cause 90 per cent of the damage. High priority insects include the boll weevil, tobacco hornworm and budworm, corn earworm, European cornborer, alfalfa cutworm, and cotton bollworm. Other methods being investigated for the stomping job include cultivation practices, natural predators, parasites, diseases, breeding of genetically weaker strains, bait lures and trapping. For the pink bollworm, which threatens California cotton, scientists borer, pink boll-worm, cabbage looper, sugarcane borer, tropical fruit flies and cattle grubs.

The goal is not complete eradication but "total population control" (TPC), says entomologist Dr. Ed Knaping, head of insect research for U.S.A. Knaping's research came up with the idea of sterilizing screw-worm flies with atomic radiation, which has vanquished that menace in cattle-rantries states.

At U.S.D.A.'s research center in Beltsville, Md., it has been discovered that the juvenile, a substance in the wood of host plants, produces sterile insects from developing into adults. Scientists are now trying to determine if the compound can be cheaply produced as another non-poisonous weapon.

As reported in "The Furrow," magazine of the John Deere Company, TPC means switching from defense to offense—reducing the entire population of an insect.

The war against the insect goes on. It will never end, but now there is hope that someday the battles will all be one-sided in favor of man.

In an article in the Wall Street Journal on the current boom in soft-tip pens, Toshi Moriyama, assistant manager in the United States for Japan Stationery Co., was quoted as lamenting: "Our biggest problem is Americans trying to flood the market with cheap imitations."

Sew Yourself Into A Fresh Ensemble

BY MARILYN HILLERS
Women's Editor

If you're thinking thoughts of spring fashions and you happen to be a girl who can sew, you're in luck. All of the bright spring colors are available in bonded knit.

One of the most exciting fabrics is a bonded rib knit—the post-boy look of fall is transformed into an all-the-way look for spring.

Singer Sewing experts offer a few tips on sewing with the new bonded fabrics. Pick a simple pattern, use the purl, avoid intricate darts and extra seaming just because this sort of fabric looks best in a simple style.

Because of the ribbing, follow layouts for one-way fabric. Cut with pinking shears (the bond will eliminate the need for seam finishing). Finish hems with ordinary even hand-stitching to the tricot backing. With a synthetic fabric such as this, sew with Dacron thread, a medium stitch (12 to the inch) and evenly balanced tension.

OTHER fabrics which are available with bonded backing include linen and cotton. The bonded, backing gives extra body. It also serves as a backing, eliminates the need for a lining, stabilizes the fabric, and gives an extra wear of a half and guards against stretching and sagging.

The spring ensemble pictured here—sleeveless, button-down, trim double-breasted jacket and white rolled collar—costs only about $15 to make, completed with zipper, belt buttons and other ingredients.

A size 11 requires only a few more yards of fabric than the 10 shown. The fabric is available at Singer Sewing Centers.

For easy-to-follow directions, turn to 15, 17, 13, 14, 16, 18 and 30 come to the Singer Sewing Center, c/o The Day.

Panel Discussion Closes Art Show

A 10-day exhibit of art works by four young Chicago Negro artists at Pioneer Park fieldhouse will be concluded on Sunday at 5 p.m. with a panel discussion on the Negro artist.

Barbara Housinger, as artist and instructor at the Chicago Art Gallery in Arlington Heights, will moderate the discussion in which the four artists will participate.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Human Relations Committee. Included in the display are drawings of Jeff Donaldson, oil paintings of Wadsworth Jarrell, fabric design of Don St. Cyr Topp and the sculpture of Douglas R. Williams.

Proceeds of the panel discussion will be a regular meeting of the Human Relations Committee in the Park fieldhouse, Mrs. William Deane, president, will preside. The program, which includes amusements and refreshments, will be held at 5 p.m. at the Coronado Restaurant.

New City Manager Predicts Smooth Sailing in His Job

With nearly four weeks as Rolling Meadows city manager behind him, R. D. Henniger says there are "absolutely no problems" he can foresee for his office. "I accept praise for one or two unstarred officers who were in place unprepared."

But, he added, "my job here is to administer, not legislate. We'll provide answers to the aldermen's questions and let them make the ordinances."

Henniger didn't name the aldermen he was speaking of, but he did talk about his conception of a city manager's job.

"I DON'T think a city manager is supposed to be an expert in everything," he said. "He should know something about city finance and personnel problems, but his main job is in co-ordinating the activities of city departments."

Henniger, who was city controller for a year and a half before becoming Rolling Meadows' first city manager Feb. 2, said he prefers to let department heads take care of their own operations.

But, he added, "when someone is doing his job, of course there's no problem."

HENNINGER said he hasn't had any "down" reports of intra-administration problems. "This is a small place, we're not a large company or we have a lot of money," he said. "It's a small place, we're not a large company or we have a lot of money."

Henniger worked for the state government in Springfield for 20 years before coming to Rolling Meadows in 1965.

Here's What to Do With Cheese

Cheese is one of the oldest of the manufactured dairy products. Its existence is recorded as early as 3000 B.C. Legends tell of wandering Asiatic tribes who found the art of making cheese.

Natural cheese can be substituted satisfactorily for meat, eggs and fish. The care and handling of cheese is important economically as well as nutritionally.

Where is stoner Grand Parmesan or Romano and pasteurized process cheese foods may be stored in a shelf until they are opened. Parmesan and Romano may be stored over two months in the refrigerator.

Blue, Cheddar, Edam and Gouda may be stored three to four weeks or more. Brie, Munster, Fontina, Gruyere, Swiss, Emmentaler, Comte, Cantale, Cottage, Cream, Muenster and Ricotta may be stored in the refrigerator up to one week.

about an hour before serving and return remainder to refrigerator. If slight mold appears, the cheese is still good to eat, merely scrape off moldy portion. End pieces of cheese have many uses. Shred, grate, dice, store in covered container. Add to casseroles, soups, vegetable and baked goods.

After freezing, cheese should be thawed slowly and with wrapper on to prevent loss of moisture and flavor. Due to changes in body characteristics, frozen cheese when thawed tend to become crumbly or dry, and therefore should not be used for slicing. Partially thawed cheese should more easily and thus is a time-saver. For fast melting, shred cheese. Because cheese has a high protein food it tends to toughen when exposed to high temperatures or long cooking periods. Use only moderate heat and a minimum of cooking time.

Easy To Fix Swiss Pie

By MARILYN HIEBERS
Woman's Editor

An Americanized version of Swiss Fondue from France adds new life to a winter menu. This custard set actually is a fondue. It is made of Swiss cheese, cream, and eggs. Each region of Switzerland has its own recipe. The version is called Swiss Fondue.

The secret of this simple recipe is that it uses the fat in the cheese. It is a custard set, not a sauce. It can be served as an entree, just serve with salad, beverage and dessert. Or use it as a dip for bread and other finger foods.

THE SWISS CUSTARD PIE has high heat stability and very versatile. It is a custard set, not a sauce. It can be served as an entree, just serve with salad, beverage and dessert. Or use it as a dip for bread and other finger foods.

Fall-flavored, satisfying, economical and easy to fix... that's Swiss Custard Pie.

Antioch Tops Knights in Regional

BY DALE HOFMANN

A scrambling, clawing, gritty bout of Prospect High School basketball players got the word last night that this season is over. They may not believe it yet.

BUT IT'S ALL there in the record books of the Fremd Regional Tournament. The books say the Knights lost their annual game with Antioch, 51-47. They don't say anything about the fact that Antioch's defense was so good that the Knights are through. And they are Antioch, not Prospect, who swept the winner of the tournament in a 15-minute overtime game in the tournament finals Saturday at 8 p.m. But if Prospect had to bow out at all, it couldn't have picked a better, prouder way of doing it.

THE TEAMS spent a quarter sporting with each other, probing like good fighters in a 15-minute overtime game. Antioch's forward Tyrone Walls didn't begin shooting until the period was nearly over, and Prospect's own scoring was limited. Antioch, as was plain clear, it was the other players who carried the action in the first quarter. They carried it to an anticlimactic 11-11 Antioch lead.

THEN ANTIOCH put together a big third quarter. The Knights managed two fouls in the first two minutes of the half and didn't get another one until only five seconds showed on the clock. But, even the upset didn't stop.

To make it worse, Prospect surrendered the ball seven times to Antioch. Antioch took advantage with a 10-point surge that gave it a 27-20 edge with eight minutes to go. They stretched that lead to 33 points in the opening minute of the second quarter, and a half of the final quarter.

PROSPECT had "never put together a close ball game before last night." The Knights were never won by less than eight points but by less than 10 points. Antioch folded like a three-dollar bill, but it was not that simple. The "money" bleeped out of the game, cutting those 13 points to five. Prospect's half-court defense was not as good as it was in the first quarter.

But Phillips, like Landstam, was not a rookie. He was the first free throw shooter in the second quarter of the first four-quarter game. Phillips scored 17 points, including a three-point shot. Landstam, who was not a rookie, scored 17 points, including a three-point shot. Landstam, who was not a rookie, scored 17 points, including a three-point shot.

CANDIDATES MUST be nominated before 5 p.m. on the Monday before the election. All nominations may be made anonymously, by letter, in person, or by writing, at any Arlington Heights office. The number of nominations for a single candidate will not affect the selection, which is made by the city's sports staff.

with a little more than six minutes left to play. Phillips hit a pair of free throws. Landstam jumped in a turn-around jump shot. Phillips caused a 15-foot set shot. Landstam followed with a drive and a charity toss.

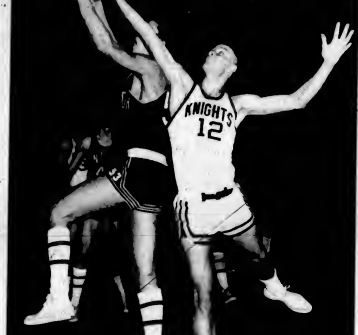

ANTIOCH SPEARED in a bucket, but Phillips followed with a few more three-pointers. The Knights trailed by 12 with 1:28 still to be played.

Antioch then picked up a free throw, but a jump shot by Bush Leonard with 1:05 left on the go to a tight bucket. The Knights tried to hold the ball, but a three-point shot gave them one free throw on the game clock.

David Kingman came back. Kingman, Antioch's drive for the first three and then broke two against Prospect's defense. Prospect's guard by causing the rebound shot on the game point. It was all over then.

THE KNIGHTS got one more chance. Phillips scored 17 points, including a three-point shot. Landstam, who was not a rookie, scored 17 points, including a three-point shot.

Prospect's Tom Landstam scrambles for a rebound with Bruce Engblom of Antioch in last night's regional action. Landstam's 21 points led the Knights in a losing cause, as they bowed out of the tournament, 51-47.

Somers Named Athlete of Week

The outstanding school athlete week last night in the area was named by Brad Somers, Arlington High School's student body president.

THE SENIOR three-quarter star picks up his second straight Day of the Week award. The award is given to the student who is the most outstanding in the area.

SOMERS COMPLETED the 1967 prep wrestling season last weekend by finishing third in the Illinois High School Association State Wrestling Tournament at 165 pounds. He won four of five matches in the state-tourney finals, including a 10-6 win in the second round over a wrestler with a 30-0 record.

THE MATCH Somers lost was a significant one, and he was to be decided by the referee. Neither competitor was able to score on the other, and with an overtime round, the official broke the 0-0 tie with an opponent choice in the first round.

SOMERS FINISHED back from the disappointment to win two consolation-round matches, earning third place. For more in coverage and final record included 23 wins, one loss.

The Realtors Who Advertise On These Pages Stand Ready To Serve You!

BE SURE..
Are you buying or selling real estate, a good way to be sure that you are doing the right thing is to consult your Realtor through a Realtor.

Are you planning to buy or sell real estate? If so, here's the most important fact you should know before making any kind of real estate transaction. It's this: Just every real estate man or woman is a Realtor! You see, Realtors are professional real estate men and women who are members of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors. These men and women also subscribe to the professional standards of an established code of ethics. What does all this mean to you? Exactly this: When you sell... a Realtor is able to tell you accurately what your real estate is likely to bring on conditions warrant. When you buy... a Realtor is able to market it for you as quickly as conditions warrant. When you sell... a Realtor is able to find property for you which suits your needs and pocketbook. A Realtor is ready and willing to put his storehouse of real estate knowledge and information at your service. Visit or phone him.

For 13 years WALLEN-FINE has been serving Chicago's home-makers. Since our very beginning, Wallen-Fine has kept growing steadily with all Chicagoland... because we cherish a reputation for the latest, best, and loveliest furniture always — and a name that means intelligently the very best Values.

First one store... then two... now a THIRD Wallen-Fine showcase of home fashions.

IT'S EASY TO GET HERE — and money-worth while. Simply come to where Rand Rd. meets Elmhurst Rd. Route 12 and Route 831 — directly opposite Randhurst Shopping Center.

LOTS OF CONVENIENT, FREE PARKING. The area shown in this photo is just a small part of our free parking area for W-F shoppers.

THE MOST CONVENIENT HOURS FOR SHOPPING, TOO. Our Mt. Prospect store is open evenings, Monday through Friday, Saturdays 10:30-5:30. And open Sundays, noon to 5:00.

To Celebrate our Grand Opening...over $5000.00 in Gifts and Prizes

OUR NEWEST STORE — IN FACT, THE NEWEST CENTER FOR FINE HOME FURNISHINGS IN ALL CHICAGOLAND

Enjoy an exciting visit—it's like strolling through scores of exquisitely furnished model homes.

You'll see ways you could "do magic" with things you own... and, admittedly, you'll see other and new things that you will be yearning to have.

Living Room, Dining, Bedroom, Family Room, Den... modern, contemporary, provincial, Mediterranean, — and a delightful gallery of Early American treasures.

◀ You step into a wonderland, — a decorator array of brilliant settings.

Here's the view that greets your enchanted eyes as you enter from Rand Road — a more than 1/4-acre expanse of luxuriously carpeted displays, all inspiringly colorful, all irresistibly eloquent of hospitable comfort.

Everywhere you turn, — an endless variety of tempting styles: a satisfying selection of sizes, textures, tones, patterns, shapes, and designs.

MARCH

You are most cordially invited to join in our Gala Celebration

What's your favorite? Enjoy it — set up by experts in interior arrangement. Are you looking for new ideas? Whether your own taste is Traditional or "Op"... French, English, Scandinavian, Italian, or sympathetic to an actual mixture of modes and moods — you will be thrilled with the endless possibilities we reveal... for achieving great effects with small expenditures.

- ★ We'll pin a fresh, long-stemmed flower on every lady visitor
- ★ You'll be given a pretty, useful Gift to take home
- ★ You get 2 chances to win wonderful Prizes, all Free... DOZENS of valuable prizes

Don't get impatient before you arrive at our Party. If you've strolled through our store during the past few weeks, while we were completing our displays and getting ready for this event, — you know there's always coffee and cookies for our visitors. FOR OUR OPEN HOUSE PARTY, WE'VE TURNED THIS LEISURE AREA INTO A RECEPTION CENTER, where you'll find coffee and tea and cakes. Cakes and other soft drinks; cups and saucers and plates; and plenty of tables and chairs for the whole family. We're looking forward to having you with us.

Win Your Choice of $450.00 - $650.00 Decorator Rooms

Mary Ann Joins Court For St. Patrick's Queen

Mary Ann Cahlon, 17, of Arlington Heights, was chosen Monday as one of four members of the court for the Queen of St. Patrick's Day Parade in Chicago.

She walks with the grace and poise of a professional model brought from Cuba, County Cork, yesterday.

Her dark green eyes are as bright as the smile she has carried through her four years at Sacred Heart of Mary High School in Rolling Meadows.

Mary Ann, who wants to attend Saint Clare College in Forest Park, is one of the staff of the high school's yearbook and writes her own column, "St. Patrick's Day," in the weekly Arlington Heights News.

Two winners ago she joined 18 other high school sophomores on a European tour sponsored by Immaculate Heart College in Los Angeles.

For six weeks she acted as the "New foreign correspondent," writing a weekly diary of her visits in Denmark, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, Austria and England.

Greenbrier Lights Due In 2 Weeks

Street lights in the Greenbrier subdivision will be turned on within two weeks.

Engine William, Arlington Heights public works director, promised Thursday that the dark streets will be lit before the snow melts.

The Jefferson Construction Co., an industrial manufacturer, supplies, he said, has delayed the village's effort to complete the improvements in the new subdivision.

The Jefferson Electrical Co., St. Louis, without exception, had run out of heat for its 250-watt fixture heads for light bulbs.

"We can put 175- and 400-watt bulbs by the carload," he said, "but the first shipment of 250-watt bulbs has been months behind schedule."

The 250-watt bulbs were used at the corners of secondary roads. Palatine Rd. has 400-watt bulbs with 175-watt lights are used on residential streets.

POLES must be inspected, William said, to make sure they were installed according to specifications and located by a measuring system.

"After we do that," he said, "the workmen from Commonwealth Edison can tie together the wires and we're in business."

Signs in the subdivision, he added, will be installed after about 90 per cent of the work has been landscaped.

A Young Man With a Mission

He's been a disc jockey, a printer, a salesman, a hand-painter, and a business manager of a radio station. Now, 25-year-old Walter Thompson spends his days and much of his nights helping the children of the Chestnut Center for the Retarded at Kallio Meadows learn how to make a living with their hands.

Short and square-shouldered, Thompson knows what it is like to live with a handicap. Both of his legs are supported by braces — the result of a childhood fall from a tree limb. Thompson doesn't let his handicap hamper his activities. He's an avid swimmer and is active in many civic organizations.

His quick sense of humor is tempered by a deep-seated sense of society. When he talks about his work at Chestnut, where he is the Training Supervisor in the school's workshop, he makes you feel that something else is motivating him.

To the 27 children in his workshop, Thompson is more than a teacher — he is a friend. His greatest goal is to have his students participate in all of the activities that other students enjoy.

RECENTLY, he decided that the boys in his class ought to have a night out with their fathers. They thought that he was kidding. He said, "I will afford that some of the kids would make money." Thompson picked up the telephone and called the owner of the McDonald's drive-in on Northwest, he is Arlington Heights and volunteered to feed all of us to eat.

That's how Thompson operates. When he thinks the children in his workshop should have something, he goes out and gets it. A few months ago Thompson decided that the school should have a flag pole. "All schools have flag poles," said matter-of-factly. Like the basketball outfit, Thompson gets his flag pole.

"I like teaching," Thompson said. "But I'm not sure that I'll spend the rest of my life as a teacher." An early experimenter with his own business in Michigan has infected Thompson with the desire to be his own boss.

This week, Thompson decided to try on a new hat that of politician. He announced his candidacy for a vacancy on the Rolling Meadows Board of Park Commissioners.

"Basically, I stand for youth and young men," he said. "I think that there is definitely a spot for young men in public office."

Thompson is opposing Phil Pratt, a veteran Rolling Meadows public official who is presently serving as an alderman on the city council.

"It's going to be a battle of the old and the new," Thompson predicted.

The league represents the opinions of members of the 16 Illinois leagues and in the result of a two-year study of housing opportunities and laws to regulate them.

The Arlington Heights and Palatine Leagues of Women Voters participated in the study and discussed making which led to the state league's strong fair housing stand.

HOMELOWNERS, as well as their agents, should be forbidden to discriminate on the basis of race, religion or ethnic background, the LWV said.

The state league recommended that a new law for fair housing be passed by June 1, 1968, and that the City of Chicago adopt the best provisions of the new law.

The LWV said, however, that the new law, to be passed, should include provisions for the state league's recommendation, should be able to use

The Realtors Who Advertise On These Pages Stand Ready To Serve You!

BE SURE...

When you are buying or selling real estate, a good way to be sure that you are doing the right thing is to transact your business through a Realtor. Are you planning to buy or sell real estate? If so, here's the most important fact you should know before making any kind of real estate transaction. It's this: Not every real estate man or woman is a Realtor! You see, Realtors are professional real estate men and women who are members of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors. These men and women also subscribe to the professional standards of an established code of ethics. What does all this mean to you? Exactly this. When you sell... a Realtor is able to tell you accurately what your real estate is likely to bring... and able to market it for you as quickly as conditions warrant. When you buy a Realtor is able to find property for you which suits your needs and pocketbook. A Realtor is ready and willing to put his storehouse of real estate knowledge and information at your service. Visit or phone him.
